JOCKEY CLUB INCREASES FEES EFFECTIVE JAN. 1st

The Jockey Club will Increase Fees by $25 in Support of the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance

Starting on January 1, 2013, The Jockey Club will increase fees by $25 for nearly all registry-related transactions, including foal registrations, and these funds will be provided to the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA).

The TAA is an organization designed to serve as both the accrediting body for aftercare facilities that care for Thoroughbreds following the conclusion of their racing careers and a fund-raising body to support these approved facilities.

The Jockey Club's board of stewards made this decision based on its determination that the TAA's mission and activities are consistent with The Jockey Club's Thoroughbred aftercare objectives.

In coordination with The Jockey Club of Canada, funds raised from Canadian customers of The Jockey Club will be directed to Canadian Thoroughbred aftercare organizations to supplement on-going aftercare activities for Canadian Thoroughbreds.

Additionally, The Jockey Club will contribute $300,000 in 2013 to the TAA from its commercial companies and will maintain the voluntary retirement checkoff option on foal registrations for owners and breeders to continue those Thoroughbred aftercare contributions.

In addition to the retirement checkoff program, The Jockey Club's other retirement initiatives include Tattoo Identification Services, Thoroughbred Connect and the Thoroughbred Incentive Program.

The change from $200 to $225 to register foals of 2013 will be the first change since 2000 when the standard, or on-time, registration fee changed from $175 to $200. At that time, DNA typing replaced blood-typing and the entire breeding stock population was retested. Foals of 2012 registered within one-year from their actual foaling date will be grandfathered at the $200 level.

Funded initially by seed money from Breeders' Cup Ltd., The Jockey Club, and Keeneland Association, the TAA is composed of owners, trainers, breeders, race-tracks, jockeys, aftercare professionals and other industry groups. Additional information about TAA is available at thoroughbredaftercare.org.

The Jockey Club, founded in 1894 and dedicated to the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing, is the breed registry for North American Thoroughbreds. In fulfillment of its mission, The Jockey Club provides support and leadership on a wide range of important industry initiatives and it serves the information and technology needs of owners, breeders, media, fans and farms, among others. Additional information is available at jockeyclub.com. The Jockey Club's new fee schedule is listed on page 6.

FIRE DEPARTMENT'S NEED FOR HORSE FARM AWARENESS

A horse that isn't accustomed to a halter and lead rope not only delays rescue, but also imperils you and all the other horses that need to be evacuated.

The easiest way to answer these questions is to make a sketch of your property. Locate the buildings on the sketch, and include the roads, driveways or lanes leading from the main road to each building. Add your pens, paddocks, round pens and pastures to the sketch. Don't be concerned with drawing to scale; your objective at this point is to answer the basic questions by adding each element to the sketch. You can add distances and dimensions later. You can complete this part of the plan before you meet with your local fire inspector, or with his or her help. If you choose to have assistance from the start, your local fire inspector can point out changes you can make right away to increase your day-to-day fire safety.

Practice saves lives

Since firefighters may have to evacuate your horses, you must make sure they know the following:

1. How to put a halter on a horse and how to lead him out. If the horse does not have his halter on while in the stall, the halter.

should be hanging on or next to the stall door, along with a lead rope.

2. How to cover the horse's eyes with a blanket or towel, if needed, in order to get him to move.

3. How to lead the horse to a secure paddock or to tie him to a rail, post or anything else the firefighter can find to keep the horse from getting loose.

Verbal and written explanations have to be augmented by hands-on training. Give your fire department members lessons on how to put a halter on, where on the halter to snap the lead rope, how to hold the lead rope, how to lead a horse who's unwilling to move, and how to get an unwilling horse to move. Firefighters can't learn these skills by merely reading about them. They absolutely must practice with live horses.

In developing any pre-plan, all these questions - and questions specific to your property - have to be answered, and the answers must then be fine-tuned by running fire drills to discover what changes need to be made to provide the most efficient means of rescuing your horses. In the event of a fire - where lost minutes can mean lost lives - having a pre-plan can make a big difference in the outcome.

Wise farm owners pre-plan for horse barn fires.

Helping your fire department help you can mean the difference between lives saved or lost.

CREATING

For those not familiar with the concept of Paddock Paradise, it's an increasingly popular way of boarding horses. It's based on the naturally healthy lifestyle of U.S. Great Basin free-roaming wild horses as written about in Paddock Paradise: A Guide to Natural Horse Boarding, by natural horse care and wild horse expert, Jaime Jackson. According to Jackson's research and studies, bands of family members travel along familiar routes he calls "tracks", as they go from one place to the next in their various territories. Because they are animals of prey, wild horse bands instinctively move in close formations across their home ranges as they seek out forage, water, rolling spots, other bands with whom they wish to interact, and many other activities essential to their biology and survival.

Tracking System. By creating similar "tracks", a Paddock Paradise encourages natural movement or travel in horses, upon which they will create their own "paths" - very narrow, worn down areas where travel or forward movement is the sole activity. As with wild horses, traveling along a familiar and efficient "path of least resistance" seems to be the unspoken but well-understood objective among domestic horses as well. A track should be as wide as is necessary for the activity to take place - narrower in areas designed simply to move the horses, and wider in places where they'll stop and camp, eat, sleep, rest, play, etc. In either case (track or path) the survival instinct is the driving force behind the movement.

Physical and psychological benefits. Paddock Paradise lays out a broad template for creating tracks and has specific recommendations for stimulating movement based on a variety of natural equine behaviors. The principal goal is to facilitate health and soundness, both physical and mental, in domesticated horses. Paddock Paradise is the "cure" or antidote to the many conditions, illnesses and disorders afflicting domestic horses as a consequence of living in stalls or other forms of close confinement, or being turned out on lush, sugar-laden grass pastures that can cause laminitis.

In addition to preventing or rehabilitating preventable illnesses and diseases, a Paddock Paradise also minimizes or ends boredom, which often means an end to stall vices, irritability or depression. When horses are allowed to live in a manner that more closely resembles their natural habitat, not only are they healthier, but happier. A Paddock Paradise allows horses to

NEW SYSTEM DETERMINES RACE RISK PROFILES

The Jockey Club has announced plans to develop a statistics-based system that would notify track officials and regulatory veterinarians when a horse entered in a race is facing a heightened risk of injury.

Dr. Tim Parkin, a noted epidemiologist from the University of Glasgow who has conducted research and studies on Thoroughbreds in the United Kingdom and Hong Kong, is currently developing the protocols, which are based on The Jockey Club's Equine Injury Database. The project is expected to be complete late this year.

This project provides us with an exciting opportunity to identify the top risk profiles and focus our interventions on the horses that fit those profiles, says Dr. Parkin.

be outside and moving 24/7, and lets them eat in a more natural manner by having constant access to the right kinds of food.

A reasonably natural diet. The horse's digestive system is not designed to endure long absences of food interrupted by an abrupt consumption of large meals - which is the manner in which many facilities feed. In the past six years, numerous Paddock Paradises have been created throughout the country and around the world - at both commercial boarding facilities and on private properties.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Where in this wide world can man find nobility without pride,
Friendship without envy,
Or beauty without vanity?
Here, where grace is served with muscle
And strength by gentleness confined
He serves without servility; he has fought without enmity.
There is nothing so powerful, nothing less violent.
There is nothing so quick, nothing more patient.

~Ronald Duncan, "The Horse," 1954

You know horses are smarter than people.
You never heard of a horse going broke betting on people!

OAKLAWN INSTITUTES EHV-1 POLICY FOR 2013

Oaklawn, working in conjunction with Arkansas State Racing Commission veterinarian Dr. Joseph Lokanc and Association veterinarian Dr. Lee Cyphers, has instituted a policy regarding the Equine Herpes Virus (EHV-1) prompted by the recent outbreak of the highly contagious disease at Hawthorne Racecourse in Chicago. Many horsemen from this track winter at Oaklawn.

The policy states that all horses (both thoroughbred & ponies) entering the Oaklawn stable area must have a current health certificate which shows vaccination for EHV-1 not more than 60 days old and not less than 14 days old prior to their arrival. Horsemen are encouraged to contact their practicing veterinarian or Arkansas State Racing Commission veterinarian Dr. Joe Lokanc if they have any questions. Dr. Lokanc can be reached at (630) 632-1601.

"The safety of all the horses entering the Oaklawn barn area is our top priority," said Assistant General Manager of Racing David Longinotti. "Hawthorne officials have done a good job of containing the disease and we do not anticipate this being a problem during the upcoming race meet. However, we are taking every precaution necessary to prevent a similar outbreak here."

Oaklawn's back area and track are open for training. The 2013 race meet begins Friday, January 11th.

(These fees include the $25 fee increase that takes effect January 1, 2013, to help fund the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance, which serves as the accrediting body for aftercare facilities that care for Thoroughbreds and as a fund-raising body to support approved facilities.)

Thoroughbred Incentive Program Approved for 2013

November 16, 2012

Contact: Shannon Luce (859) 224-2716

The Jockey Club's Thoroughbred Incentive Program (T.I.P.), which encourages the retraining of Thoroughbreds into other disciplines upon completion of careers in racing or breeding, has been renewed for the 2013 show season.

"T.I.P. sponsors Thoroughbred classes and awards at horse shows, horse trials and other events to motivate riders to showcase their Thoroughbreds and to remind people of the versatility of the Thoroughbred as a sport horse," said Kristin Leshney, legal associate with The Jockey Club. "The Jockey Club also sponsors a Thoroughbred of the Year Award for Thoroughbreds that excel outside of the show ring and a Young Rider of the Year Award."

During a pilot program in 2012, $100,000 was committed to T.I.P. for horse show sponsorships and non-competition awards, and 190 horse shows signed up for T.I.P. sponsorship. To date, more than 1,700 Thoroughbreds have competed for T.I.P. prize money, ribbons, and saddle pads.

"We were delighted with the level of interest and participation in the T.I.P. program in 2012, and, with greater awareness of it now, 2013 should be even more successful," Leshney said.

The deadline for shows to apply for T.I.P. classes and awards for 2013 is December 15, 2012.

Applications received prior to December 15 might be considered for awards prior to the deadline. Only shows being held from March 2013 through December 2013 will be considered for sponsorship.

For more information, go to tjctip.com or visit T.I.P. on Facebook at facebook.com/tjctip and share stories and photos about your Thoroughbred.

BEST OF BIRDSTONE

Winner of 2012 Razorback Futurity

Winner by 2 3/4 lengths in 1:11.4

ILE ST. MOLLY

Winner of 2011 Lady Razorback Futurity

Winner by 7 1/4 lengths in 1:10.3

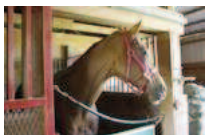

BEST OF BIRDSTONE off the pace, moved closer in some traffic into the far turn, closest to the first flight late in the bend, steered out to be four wide when straightened for home, displayed good late energy to be going away at the end. ROCK CITY ROADHOG forwardly placed outside, vied three wide through the turn, showed the way past the furling marker, proved no match for the winner late, determined for the place. BRANDON'S WAY pressed the issue early off the inside, vied between rivals through the turn, also could not match strides with winner late, outkicked for the place while finishing up along the rail. MALLARD'S BRO off a bit slow, trailed early, came four wide out of the turn and staged a mild rally well out in the strip. ARKY BILL set the early pace, battled up front closest to the inside through the turn, faltered in the final furlong. TOUR DE ROCK within striking distance early, had little left for the drive. VALID COMMANDER asked to keep up early after being pushed in a bit after the start, steadied along the rail before a quarter, fell back and did not threaten thereafter. KARBBER within striking distance outside, raced four wide into the turn and stopped later in the bend.

ILE ST. MOLLY broke very alertly, set the early pace under light restraint, increased her advantage late in the turn, continued to draw away in the drive under a moderate hand ride to win ridden out. SASHABYE off the pace, came three wide out of the turn, proved no match for the winner, clearly second best. GOOD NIGHT lacked early foot outside, asked along late in the turn while off the inside, could do little with the top two the final furlong, finished up best of the rest. CATHELDA bumped at the start to be last away, trailed much of the way, picked off a couple of tiring foes in the drive, no real threat. WREATH bumped at the start, well off the pace while saving ground, tired in the drive. SACRED closest to the winner early, failed to respond when asked late in the bend, stopped in the drive.

ARKANSAS HBPA reports

Oaklawn has increased its purses on 13 of its 32 stakes races planned for 2013, including a majority of its 3-year-old stakes races. Overall the track has raised stakes purses by $400,000 to $5.7 million, the richest in its history. There will be more money and points available to Kentucky Derby hopefuls at Oaklawn in 2013 than at any other track in the United States. Boosts of $100,000 were made to the Rebel Stakes for colts and geldings and also to the Fantasy Stakes for fillies. Both stakes are for 3-year-olds. The Smarty Jones and Southwest Stakes have increased by $50,000 a piece. The Honeybee Stakes for fillies increased by $25,000. There will be no stakes for less than $60,000 including state-bred stakes.

A Message from our President:

Congratulations to the winning connections of the Razorback and Lady Razorback Futurities. Both winners stepped up to bigger stakes for their next starts and each got a piece of those purses. They both showed they belong in open stakes.

The fall thoroughbred sales have been pretty good. The sales have had less horses, so that's probably part of the reason. I say that because that's what the sale statistics show. I do know you had better have a good one if you're going to sell it for very much.

I've had to start putting out a lot more hay. These latest frosts have finished off the grass in my pastures. I think the horses like winter more than I do. I get tired of feeding and haying over and over. I try to put a lot of those chores on someone else and will try to find something else to do at hay time.

I'm looking forward to Oaklawn starting up again and 2013 looks to be as big as ever with the larger purses. It's too convenient being able to watch Oaklawn live on T.V.G. I can stop by the house and watch a race or two without having to drive to Hot Springs, but the later is sure a whole lot more fun, but if I stay home I don't get to cash all of those win tickets! ha!!! GOOD LUCK AT THE TRACK THIS YEAR!

Bill McDowell, President

FROM THE ATBHA OFFICE

As the year comes to a close, take a few minutes to make sure you have all of your ARKANSAS registrations completed.

IMPORTANT ... IMPORTANT IMPORTANT ... YOU DO NOT HAVE TO HAVE YOUR 2012 FOAL REGISTRATIONS COMPLETED WITH THE JOCKEY CLUB by 12/31/12, BUT YOU DO HAVE TO HAVE YOUR 2012 ARKANSAS FOAL REGISTRATIONS COMPLETED by 12/31/12 to avoid higher registration fees. Postmark date is what we go by so make sure the applications are at least postmarked by December 31, 2012.

Nomination fees for stakes eligibility are also due by December 31, 2012 for 2011 registered Arkansas-bred foals. NOMINATION FEES MUST BE PAID BY SEPARATE CHECK so please do not combine nomination payments with registration and membership payments. Failure to comply with this could cause your check and forms to be returned to you causing your payments to be received after the December 31st deadline.

If you have ANY questions at all, do not hesitate to contact the ATBHA office.

Also, make sure your correct mailing address is on file with ATBHA. We will begin processing awards checks the first quarter of 2013 and an incorrect address could cause a delay in you receiving your awards checks.

IMPORTANT To assist Oaklawn's Racing Office, if the Arkansas-bred Foal Registration Certificate is not attached to your Arkansas-bred horse's Jockey Club Certificate, either you or your trainer needs to bring The Jockey Club Certificate by the ATBHA office to have it stamped. Please notify your trainer to do this, if he is in possession of your papers.

To keep from tearing up your newsletter, photocopy the page for your membership renewal, then fill out the copy and return it with your check for $50. Membership renewal for 2013 is due this month and is $50 if paid on or before March 1, 2013. After the March 1st deadline, membership renewal fees increase to $75. ATBHA 2013 Membership dues MUST be paid to receive a ballot to vote in the election for 2013-2015 ATBHA Board of Directors. That ballot will be mailed out in February.

If there are any incorrect addresses or telephone numbers in the 2013 Stallion & Farm Directory, please let the ATBHA office know so it can be corrected in future directories.

Hopefully the new version of www.atbha.com will be published by the time this newsletter reaches you. Check it out at www.atbha.com.

The annual Awards Banquet will be held on FRIDAY, MARCH 29th at the Clarion on the Lake. More information will be in the February newsletter.

Again, call the ATBHA office if you have any questions, we want to help you avoid missing any of these costly deadlines!
